

2015 Lazy River Vineyard Chardonnay

Score 97 & Editors' Choice • $45

Even in the midst of the current Oregon Chardonnay renaissance, this bottle stands above and beyond. Concentrated and bursting with lemon drop tang, it's a vibrant, reflective, complex and utterly captivating wine. The estate's focus is on single-vineyard expressions of various Willamette Valley AVAs. -Paul Gregutt, Wine Enthusiast, June 2018

2015 Elton Vineyard Chardonnay

Score 94 • $60

This full-flavored wine bursting with ripe apple, peach, melon and papaya flavors was fermented with native yeast in barrel, 20% new. A luscious seam of butterscotch runs through the palate, and plenty of natural acidity keeps the flavors fresh and lively. -PG

2015 Elton Vineyard Pinot Noir

Score 93 • $75

Elton's 30-year-old vines weave subtle threads of herb, root and earth around its tight wild strawberry, currant and red licorice flavors. The earthy details run deep, which supports tucking this bottle away for up to a decade. -PG

2015 Lazy River Vineyard Pinot Noir (Yamhill-Carlton AVA)

Score 92 • $55

Lush marionberry, boysenberry, blueberry and plum flavors are on display here, with subtle hints of pepper. Aged in 30% new French oak, it finishes with cocoa and vanilla custard notes. -PG

2015 Temperance Hill Vineyard Pinot Noir

Score 92 • $75

It's pedal to the metal flavor in this wine from the renowned vineyard, with ripe blackberry and black cherry fruit. There's a streak of cola, licorice and chicken broth on the finish, with subtle, sufficient tannins. -PG

2015 Nysa Vineyard Pinot Noir

Score 91 • $65

This wine from a respected vineyard in the Dundee Hills brings pinpoint focus to its just-ripe wild berry flavors. Its astringency is more the result of lemony acids than dusty tannins, and its caramel chocolate highlights the result of aging in 30% new French oak. -PG

2015 Tualatin Estate Pinot Noir

Score 91 • $65

Yummy is the word that comes to mind with this wine, its ripe, round, slightly candied fruit flavors on full display. Orange, tangerine, blackberry and sour cherry flavors create a sweet/tart effect that's held in check by just a touch of barrel toast. -PG
